Respondent has a history of abusive behavior towards her minor children. Recently, Respondent pushed the minor child down the stairs. The parties' minor son repeatedly requested to reside with Petitioner, but Respondent denied the child's request. Respondent refused to allow the minor child to keep a Gizmo watch—a device which enabled the minor child to have contact with his parents and grandparents. Respondent's unreasonable behavior traumatized the parties' minor child. Respondent has also denied Petitioner reasonable access to the minor child despite her avowal that she would do so.

5. Petitioner maintains that it would be in the best interests of the minor child for him to be awarded temporary sole legal decision-making of the minor child. Petitioner maintains that it would be detrimental to the minor child's physical, mental, moral, and emotional well-being to be in Respondent's care.
6. Petitioner maintains that, until Respondent receives appropriate anger-management counseling and attends the Parent Education Program, it would be in the best interests of the minor child for Respondent to not have any parenting time with the child.
7. Petitioner maintains that, since he and the minor child have historically resided at the marital residence, and because Respondent has alternative living arrangements, he should be awarded exclusive use of the marital residence.

WHEREFORE, Petitioner requests the following relief:

- A. An Order granting Petitioner temporary sole legal decision-making authority of the minor child;
- B. An Order denying any temporary parenting time for Respondent with the minor child until Respondent completes anger management counseling and attends the Parent Education Program;

This notice applies to all parents who file any of the following actions:

NOTICE REGARDING CREDITORS

Kendall Alexis Fenn
Name of Respondent

Arizona law requires all actions for Divorce, Annulment, or Legal Separation to include this Notice and for the person filing for Divorce, Annulment, or Legal Separation to serve this Notice on the other party. (ARS §25-318(H)).

You and your spouse are responsible for community debts. In your property settlement agreement or decree of dissolution, annulment, or legal separation, the court may assign responsibility for certain community debts to one spouse or the other. Please be aware that a court order that does this is binding on the spouses only and does not necessarily relieve either of you from your responsibility for these community debts. These debts are matters of contract between both of you and your creditors (such as banks, credit unions, credit card issuers, finance companies, utility companies, medical providers and retailers). Since your creditors are not parties to this court case, they are not bound by court orders or any agreements you and your spouse reach in this case. On request, the court may impose a lien against the separate property of a spouse to secure payment of debts that the court orders that spouse to pay.

Contact creditors: You may want to contact your creditors to discuss your debts as well as the possible effects of your court case on your debts. To assist you in identifying your creditors, you may obtain a copy of your spouse's credit report by making a written request to the court for an order requiring a credit reporting agency to release the report to you. Within thirty (30) days after receipt of a request from a spouse who is party to a divorce or legal separation, which includes the court and cause number of the action, creditors are required, by law, to provide information as to the balance and account status of any debts for which you or your spouse may be liable to the creditor. You may wish to use the following form, or one that is similar, to contact your creditors:

Warning: If you do not understand this notice, you should contact an attorney for advice about your legal rights and obligations.

The following page contains a sample form you may choose to mail to creditors to get information about debts owed by you or your spouse. It is not a required form.

Do not file the next page with the court.
